

2018 EACME annual Conference - Ethics in Action

The significance of ethics in clinical practice, education & research
September 6 - 8, 2018 | VU University Medical Center Amsterdam

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Dear colleagues,

Doing ethics consists of reflecting, reasoning and contributing to a good life: in practice, with practice and for practice. Ethics is about thinking what it means to realize a better practice and which moral competences are needed in order to do so. More and more, doing ethics requires acknowledging different perspectives on what is morally right and justified. Truly meeting other perspectives requires a participatory, systematic and critical dialogue with various stakeholders. Stakeholders are not merely objects of study but are partners in research and contributing to a good life. At this conference we will continue to do so, together with you and other stakeholders.

The Department of Medical Humanities at the VU University Medical Center Amsterdam (VUmc) welcomes you to the 35th conference of the European Association of Centres of Medical Ethics (EACME) in beautiful Amsterdam. In addition, the European Clinical Ethics Network (ECEN) and the Cambridge Consortium on Bioethics Education will organise satellite pre-conference meetings on the 5th of September 2018.

Interested in sharing your experiences and research at EACME conference 2018 in Amsterdam? Please submit your abstract form for your oral paper, poster presentation, workshop or panel session (symposia).
